TRADITIONAL TARTANS
TWEED, KILTS, KNITS & GIFTS

... where it all began

The story of weaving in Lochcarron started back in 1938 when Mr Wood was sent from Galashiels, the Scottish Borders home of the company. He was to teach the art of weaving to the folk of Strathcarron.

With him came Mrs Josephine Buchan, mother of the company's founder Morris Buchan, and it was Josephine's job to manage the new workplace.

Local wool spun by the women of Lochcarron and the surrounding parishes was used in the making of tweeds, white blankets and rugs. Woven on handlooms the products were first exhibited at the Kyle of Lochalsh Show. Ten years later Hattersley looms and yarn were sent from Galashiels and the first length of 'Crawford Tartan' was woven in 1949.

Since these humble beginnings, Lochcarron of Scotland has gone on to become the world's leading manufacturer of tartan. We are very proud that the company still bears the name of where it all began many years ago.
