Subject: Exciting relocation for Lochcarron Weavers Heritage Shop Wester Ross

A news release from Lochcarron of Scotland | Opening Tuesday 23rd May 2023

Lochcarron Weavers, the renowned Scottish textile company, is pleased to announce that its Heritage Shop is moving to a new location on the North Coast 500 (NC500) route just east of the village of Lochcarron.

The new Heritage Shop will feature a wide selection of Lochcarron Weavers iconic products, including tartans, tweeds, and accessories, all produced in the company's mill based in the equally stunning Scottish Borders. The shop will also offer a range of Scottish gifts and souvenirs, making it the perfect destination for tourists and locals alike.

'We are delighted to be moving our Heritage Shop to a more accessible location', said Dawn Robson-Bell, Managing director of Lochcarron of Scotland, 'the new setting will provide our customers with a unique shopping experience, surrounded by the beauty of the Scottish Highlands and our shop manager Joy Moran and her team will be on hand to offer a very warm welcome to familiar and new faces, and to showcase our exceptional range of Scottish textiles'.

The new location, managed by the Lochcarron Community Development Company (Charity No SC020150), is also home to a pottery, gallery/framer, and a craft shop/studio. With the addition of the Lochcarron Weaver's Heritage Shop together we offer a unique destination for visitors and locals and a lovely woodland walk and picnic space.

Over the years, Lochcarron Weavers has become a beloved institution in the Highlands, playing an important role in preserving Scotland's textile heritage. The company's Selkirk weaving mill in the Scottish Borders, is a hub of activity with skilled weavers and craftspeople using traditional methods to produce some of the world's most authentic tartans and textiles.

Founded in 1947, but through acquisition has a heritage that dates back 1892, Lochcarron has been at the forefront of the Scottish Textile industry with a reputation for exceptional craftsmanship and quality. As the world's leading manufacturer of tartan the company's products are esteemed worldwide and have been worn by everyone from Scottish Royalty to celebrities...from kilt to catwalk
